

AGAINST REVOLT AGAINST MURPHY

"Whispering Larry" Delmour's Attack on the Leader Seems the Beginning of a Great Uprising to Overthrow Him.

WHOLE SULLIVAN CLAN IN RANKS OF DISSATISFIED.

Chiefs of the Organization in Many Districts Ready to Join a Movement Against Murphy in Next Year's Primaries.

"Whispering Larry" Delmour struck a keynote, apparently, when he gave an interview to an Evening World reporter at the door of Senator Patrick H. McCarron's Brooklyn headquarters, where he had called to congratulate the Senator on his signal triumph over Murphy in the latter's effort to annex the Brooklyn Democracy to Tammany Hall.

"I tell you," he said, "Murphy is not the man to lead Tammany Hall. He is not liked by a majority of the leaders. His attempt to interfere with the organization in Brooklyn is not endorsed by either the leaders or the rank and file in Manhattan. He is not a big enough man to lead Tammany."

What this faithful, lifelong friend of Richard Croker said to The Evening World reporter was the one topic of discussion in Tammany circles today, and the most frequent remark was of surprise that nobody had ventured to give voice to this growing feeling of resentment against Charles F. Murphy's autocratic methods.

Talk of a Revolt.

There are whispers of a probable concerted attack upon Murphy's leadership in next year's primaries, and the whisper is becoming audible. It is generally agreed that no Democrat should join in any local squabble which will in even the slightest measure jeopardize the National and State tickets, and one of the chief causes of complaint against Murphy is his persistent quarrel with everybody over McCarron, who, as a member of the majority, was selected to be chairman of the State Executive Committee—to stay there.

Murphy's open interference in the district primaries through letters sent out to tell the Democrats of the district whom he would like to return as their representative, has not set well with the rank and file, while his strange behavior at the St. Louis Convention and since; his abortive attempts to disrupt the party of the State in his desire to get square with McCarron for joining with the majority in the State Convention, have given rise to a feeling of disgust among all but his own particular set in the organization.

Even ex-Judge McMahon, the "two-spot" of the old Triumvirate, and perhaps more than any other one man influential in creating Murphy as leader of Tammany, admits that he got only one of the Commissionships for his district; two others having been given to men from his district, but over his head.

Hopper is credited for primary campaign purposes with a half dozen fat places, in the securing of which he had no more to do than the Sultan of Sulu.

Vernon M. Davis was selected from his district for Justice of the Supreme Court at a time when Hopper had a candidate—not Davis. An Assistant Corporation Counsel, the Water Register and one or two other high-salaried officials were selected from Hopper's district, but by Murphy.

Recentment All Around.

The same conditions are found in nearly every district, and every leader is confronted with the fact that there is a Murphy organization within his own. True, these Murphy men stand by the district leader, as Commissioner Palmer did by McMahon, though the Judge had nothing to do with his appointment to the Commissionship of Parks—but would they if the leaders showed any open disposition to resent Murphy's dictation?

An inspired rumor has it that Senator Dan Riordan has been wiped off the Tammany slate and would retire.
Tom Foley and Judge Finn, who lead two of the three districts comprising the Senatorial District, do not say so—and they are perfectly free in their statements that Murphy can go to the demons bow-wow before they will allow Riordan to be sacrificed—and take his city patronage with him.

Borough President Ahearn, who holds place against his will, has accepted it as a salute to his wounds when ed it as a salute to his wounds when

President Haffen, of the Bronx, the disputed leader of the 25,000 Democrats of that borough, would like to break away from Tammany altogether and establish an independent organization for his borough.

JUDGE CULLEN TO SUCCEED PARKER

Governor Will Sign To-Day the Commission Which Makes Brooklyn Jurist Chief Judge of Court of Appeals.

The appointment by Gov. Odell of Judge Edgar M. Cullen, of Brooklyn, to be Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals made no change in the vacation plans of Judge Cullen. Long before he knew that Judge Parker was going to resign he made preparations to go to the Maine woods early in September, and to-day he started with his family on an early train.

Gov. Odell will sign the commission of Judge Cullen to-day. He is appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Judge Parker, which ends on Dec.
31. The Republican Convention, which meets in Saratoga on Sept. 11, will nominate him to succeed himself for the full term of fourteen years.

In making this appointment Gov.
Odell materially assists Republican State Leader Odell in a scheme for forcing the Democrats to join with the Republicans in nominating State judicial candidates this year. The Republicans, after nominating Judge Cullen, will nominate Judge William E.
Werner, of Rochester, to succeed Judge Odell. E. Martin as Associate Justice of the Court of Appeals, with the belief that the Democratic Convention, in order to preserve the spirit of non-partisanship in the election of the ju-dictary, cannot do otherwise than nominate the same candidate.

Both Judge Cullen and Judge Werner, before elected to the Supreme Court bench, have been serving on the Court of Appeals since their designation by Gov. Roosevelt several years ago.
David B. Hill is a bitter political enemy of Judge Cullen, the enmity dating from the opinion handed down by the Brooklyn judge a dozen years ago in the Dutchess County election cases which helped to bury Judge Isaac H. Maynard under 10,000 votes.
Mr. Hill wants Justice D. Cady Herrick, of Albany, nominated for Chief Justice and Attorney General Cullen to succeed Justice Martin.

Judge Cullen was born in Brooklyn on Dec. 4, 1842. He served during the civil war in the Ninety-sixth New York Volunteer Infantry. He was admitted to the bar in 1867, served as Assistant District Attorney from 1872 to 1878, and was engineer-in-chief, with the rank of brigadier-general, on the staff of Gov.
Tilden in 1875. In 1880 he was elected Supreme Court Justice for a term of fourteen years, and was re-elected in 1894.

POLICE HERO ENDS HIS LIFE

Patrolman Joseph T. Taggart, of West One Hundred and Fifty-second Street Station, Kills Himself at His Home.

Without the slightest known reason for wishing to end his life, Joseph T.
Taggart, thirty-six years old, a patrolman attached to the West One Hundred and Fifty-second street police station, killed himself by shooting at his home, No. 52 West One Hundred and Fifty-second street.

Taggart had been attached to the West One Hundred and Fifty-second street station for seven years and had no trouble of any kind that is known by his family, yet the circumstances surrounding his death point to deliberate suicide.

Two weeks ago he was slightly injured while rescuing a woman from a burning building, but it was not known that the injury had affected his brain.
Taggart drew his month's pay, $114.44, at 4 o'clock at the station-house, and joked and joined in the merriment of the barracks room. He went home to dinner, and was to report at 8 o'clock for reserve duty. At home his wife sister, Katie Shields, was visiting from Croton Landing, and with her, his wife and their three children Taggart sat his manner to suggest that he contemplated suicide.

At the end of the dinner he left the table to dinner. There was nothing in table, laughing, and went to the kitchen, singing. Miss Shields was in the kitchen. She was startled by the report of a pistol not six feet from her, and turning she saw Taggart fall to the floor, blood streaming from the right temple. The pistol fell from his hand.

Mrs. Taggart and the children rushed to the kitchen. Taggart was unconscious.
Miss Shields ran to the police station, and soon an ambulance came. Taggart died as the surgeon bent over him.
The bullet, from a thirty-two-caliber revolver, had passed through the skull.
Mrs. Taggart, distracted, could tell nothing of what had happened. Neither could her sister, who was not aware the policeman had a pistol in his hand till she heard the shot. Both she and his friends among the policemen of the station-house insist that he did not commit suicide, but that the shooting was accidental.

Capt. Halpin was deeply affected by Taggart's death. Taggart was appointed to the force in 1897. All the time he had been attached to the same station and was well known in the precinct. He was commended frequently for bravery, two weeks ago he made a heroic rescue of a woman in a fire at One Hundred and Forty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, carrying her from a burning room and better painfully injured himself. The woman later died from her injuries.

MAY BE VICTIM OF MURDER.

Tug Captain Finds Body Floating in Passaic River.

Capt. Charles F. Le Vines, of the tug Magic Safety, early to-day found the body of an unidentified man in the Passaic River, near Newark. Marks on the forehead indicated possible foot play, and the New York police are investigating.

The body was taken from the river at the foot of Madison street, Newark.
One hand was missing. The dead man was about fifty years old, wore new shoes, and a laborer's blouse and

RIDICULES DOG; MORTALLY SHOT

Saloon Patron Receives Bullet Through Body—Brothers and Canine Held—Victim Sent to Hospital.

John Flynn, twenty-five, married, and a resident of Sheephead Bay, was shot through the breast and probably mortally wounded because he made fun of a hungry-looking mongrel dog, and, incidentally, of its owners, two brothers.

John and Joseph Stahl, farm laborers, and their dog are in the Church Street Police Station, and Flynn is in the Hudson Street Hospital with only a fighting chance for life. John Stahl, who lives at Jericho, Conn., was identified as the man who did the shooting. His brother, who works on a farm at Cranford, N. J., is held for carrying concealed weapons.

The shooting was done at the saloon of John McCarthy, Rector and Washington streets.
Flynn was drinking in the saloon when the two brothers entered, followed by their dog. The crowd poked fun at the animal and a general laugh ensued at the expense of the dog and its owners.

As Flynn left the saloon the Stahl brothers followed, and two shots were heard in quick succession. Flynn was carried back into the saloon, where a bullet that had passed through his breast dropped to the floor.

Detective Sergeants Bracken and Londrigan, of the Church Street Station, heard the shots and were soon at the scene. They arrested the Stahl brothers, and they will be heard in the Tombs Police Court this morning.

PARENTS SEEK MISSING SON.

Five-Year-Old Boy Strangely Disappears.

The parents of Morris Weiss, five and a half years old of No. 106 Lewis street, have applied to the police for aid in the search for the boy. He disappeared from his home yesterday morning.
When he left home he wore canvas overalls, shoes and no stockings, a thin waist and a peaked cap. He is thin and dark complexion.

FORBES TO BE SENT BACK.

Will Sail for New York with Federal Officers.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 2.—Charles E. Forbes, alias Irving W. Humphrey, who is wanted in New York for forgery and whose extradition President Roosevelt requested, was placed in the cupola of a United States detective today and will sail for New York to-morrow by way of Liverpool.
